ACTIVITY IN THE TEA TRADE.

A SHARP ADVANCE AND LARGE SALES. TALK AMONG THE IMPORTERS-THE BOOM OF 1879

AND ITS RESULTS.

A marked advance in the price of teas in the last few days, and transactions amounting to between one and two million pounds a day at the Importers and Grocers' Exchange, have caused some excitement among importers, brokers and dealers. The advance has been about three cents a pound, and it is believed that there will be a further rise. A leading member of the Exchange said a day or two ago: "It has been intimated that there is to be another movement like that of 1879. In that year there was a general boom for nearly all merchandise; tea was about the last thing to be affected and almost the first to relapse. Since then the trade has been suffering from the ill effects of that unwarranted boom. The importations last year were 34,000,000 pounds of Japans, 18,000,000 pounds of blacks, and 11,000,000 pounds of sreens—a total of 64,000,000 pounds, against 74,507,840 pounds in 1882, 79,983,719 pounds in 1881, and $1,746,401 pounds in 1880. Notwithstanding the exceptional statistical situation, Japans have continued to decline, and good Japan teas by December, 1883, had touched the lowest point on record. The principal reasons for this contradictory state of things may be that callier in the season many interior towns, as far west as St. Paul, had imported more or less, and were for a short period competitors of New-York. This has changed, and the demand has returned to New-York. China teas—Oolongs and greens—coming almost entirely into this port, have meanwhile advanced in fair proportion to their improved statistical position. Japans had to wait for the Exchange before being taken out of the slough of despondency, and their steady advance is not a necessary consequence of altered circumstances; and, in comparison with present prices of green teas, they are still much below their value. Hence, greens are either too high or Japans too low. "In 1879 'Standard No. 4' ran up to 40 cents; from July to September last prices ruled 30 to 28 cents, which was considered a moderate and safe value for the seas AND ITS RESULTS.

ment, has only this season begun to reap some tangible benefits."

Another importer said: "Japan teas have been going down since 1879, until in December they reached their lowest point. The decrease in imports last year of about 6,000,000 pounds, together with the increased consumption, has started an advance in prices. Then there is an uncertainty as to the amount of stock on hand, but the importers and warehousemen have consented to comply with the requests of the Importers and Grocers' Exchange to give a statement of the actual supply. When this is done we will be able to see just how we stand. The year's supply reaches this country nowadays in three or four months' time, and as the arrivals begin in Angust, the supply, or the last year's crop, is positively known and cannot be changed until the 1884 crop begins to be shipped from China and Japan during May; quantities cannot reach here before July or August. All the Exchange has done thus far is to absorb a temporary nominal surplus. When the new crop begins to arrive the demand will decide whether the prices at which the teas are now held are high or low."

ONE OPINION OF "BILLY" MCGLORY. THE WORK OF WENDELL PHILLIPS AND JOHN KELLY IN THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

IN THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

The announcement of "Brick" Pomeroy as a speaker drew a large audience to the Manhattan Temperance Association yesterday afternoon, in Cooper Union Hall. Mr. Gibbs, the president, made brief mention of an interview that he had had with "Billy" McGlory in the Tombs. The penitent liquor-dealer, he said, had expressed to him his contrition and need of sympathy, and had explained that he was so bound around into a net, by capitalists, most of them respectable men in society, that he had been mable to break loose. His wife sent a gift of $10 to the association. "God bless' Billy' McGlory!" exclaimed Mr. Gibbs; "He has a great soul!"

Mr. Pomeroy said:

In my younger days I used to vote for the party that could make the most noise; since then I have thought more seriously on the matter, and have come to the conclusion that the best party is the party that provides best for the future. I do not know whether it will be the Democratic party, or the Republican party; but a Temperance party it must be. In the coming campaign there will be at least four parties in the field; the Republican, and the Democratic, both in the liquor interest; the Labor and the Temperance parties. Our duty ought to be clear. Let us not desist from our great work in this city, until the only place where we can ever find a man drunk will be the Board of Aldermen or the Legislature.

The meeting of the American Temperance Union,

The meeting of the American Temperance Union, at Chickering Hall, was well attended yesterday afternoon. After a short address by the Rev. George Gallagher, pastor of the Fourth Unitarian Church, the Rev. George Corey spoke. Among other things he said:

"The death of Wendell Phillips removes from our ranks one of the most celebrated, and at the same time, one of the most influential temperance orators that ever lived. There was a time in his life when he dared, in the face of the most determined opposition, to lift up his voice against the evil of human slavery. He could not be glienced. When slavery had been crashed out of existence in our own country, then he championed the cause tence in our own comments the any blows against the liquor traffic. No man can measure the worth of his support to the glorious cause. . . John Kelly has had his eyes opened of late, and I am glad of it. It is unfair for his enemies to accuse him of making a crusade against the liquor dives merely for the purpose of political preferment. I hope the day will come when John Kelly will deliver a temperance speech from this platform.

ferment. Those the day will come when John Kelly will kellyer a temperance speech from this platform.

At a temperance meeting held in the evening, at Gospel Union Hall in Sixth-ave., under the direction of the Rev. G. C. Goss, Mr. Gibbs gave a description of the work of the Cooper Union meetings. "John Kelly," he said, "has broken the shackles on this temperance question; and now that he has moved, the Democratic party, which has been long known as the rum party of this city, will be ready to make a move. The Democratic press is now free to speak." He told the story of his having written a letter to McGlory, and said:

In answer to my letter his wife called on me the morning after its receipt. She told me that those were the first kind words that had been spoken to him since his troubles. When I called on McGlory in the Tombs, he said, with tears in his eyes: "Mr. Gibbs, until a few years say I never touched a drop of Benor. I went into the business because of bad advisers, and since then have been mable to extricate myself. Capitalists have held me dove, and all I have heard is Money! Money! Money in Gibbs, if I come out from this prison, I promise you to give up this business, to go into respectable work, and to do whatever you say. And he meant it! I tell you what! If we get "Billy "McGlory out of prison and set him to work on these dives, we will make things hot for the dens of vice! the dens of vice!

SUSPECTED OF A SAFE ROBBERY.

SUSPECTED OF A SAFE ROBBERY.

Directly after the safe robbery at the jewelry store of E. B. Hayden, No. 205 Fulton-st., Brooklyn, last Sunday, when jewels were stolen worth $46,000, a man was seen to leave the store and cross Fulton-st. He carried with him a small satchel and was seen by two men who were on the sidewalk opposite the store. Police Captam Campbell, of Brooklyn, and Inspector Byrnes have had frequent conferences, and acting upon the description given by the two witnesses, Detective Scrgeant Malarkey, under Inspector Byrne's orders, at 2 oclock yesterday morning arrested 'Eddy' Keeler, alias Keelahei, in Second-ave, near Thirty-fourth-st. The prisoner was 'aken to Police Headquarters and placed between eight men and in that position he was positively identified by the two witnesses, as the man who was seen crossing Fulton-st, with the satchel in his hand.

Keeler is known to the police as a more than ordinary desperate criminal. In a drunken fight in a liquor store in First-ave, near Forty-sixth-st., in Pebruary 1872, he took a club from Policeman Tully, who was trying to arrest him, and fractured the officer's skull. Policemen were sent to Tully's aid, when Keeler's companion attacked then savagely, and one of the mob, named Lambert, killed Officer Lavey. For this Keeler got ten years in State prison, and Lambert twenty years. When Keeler got his freedom in 1880 he was concerned in hlowing up the sale of the United States Express Company at New-Plats. Ulster County. He was captured, beat the officer who arrested him, and escaped, but was recaptured in the woods by a party of citizens armed with shotguns. He was given three years' imprisonment for that erime, and only recently he had regained his freedom.

DENYING A STORY OF DISAGREEMENT.

The Rev. Dr. Edmund D. Cooper, rector of the Church of the Redeemer at Astoria, L. L. it was stated on Saturday had had a disagreement with his people. He was said to have charged the cougregation with having contributed during the last two months only $7 for the poor of the parish, while he had paid $95 out of his own pocket. Dr. Cooper said yesterday: "This statement does a great injustice to both the liberality of my congregation and the entire harmony that prevails in my church. I did not make the statement that I had contributed $95 out of my own pocket, for it is not true. The $7 was contributed for specific cases of poverty, or want and had nothing to do with the general contribution for the poor, which is as large as has been usually received. I mentioned the matter only to stimulate the members of the congregation toward giving more liberally for special cases of distress that arise, whether they be in our own church or any other. I have been rector of the church for seventeen years, in fact, its only rector, and I can say that the utmost harmony prevails, and I hope will continue to prevail; and any statements to the contrary are wholly unwarranted by fact." DENYING A STORY OF DISAGREEMENT.

said last night, in reference to the closing of the lakes on Sunday evenings, that on the one occasion when the experiment was tried so few people had availed themselves of the privilege that it was not considered worth while to continue the practice. As far as he was concerned, he said, he advocated the measure most heartily as well as that of keeping the museums and art galleries open on Sundays.

DR. MACARTHUR'S CHURCH DEDICATED. SERVICES IN WHICH MANY MINISTERS TOOK PART-

EXCHANGING GOOD WISHES.

Festoons of smilax, wreaths of roses, sprays of lilies, and palms and evergreens, made the new Calvary Baptist Church, in West Fifty-seventh-st., a bower of worship yesterday. All day long services were held, and all day long the edifiee was crowded. The members of the old church in Twenty thirdst, had changed the field of their endeavors, and were holding services in the new building for the first time. The morning services began at 11 a.m. The Rev. J. B. Calvert read the first Scripture lesson, and the Rev. Dr. R. S. Macarthur, the pastor, read the second. A prayer was offered by the Rev. Norman Fox, and Dr. Macarthur preached a sermon on the new building. The dedicatory prayer was made by the Rev. Dr. Edward Bright. In the afternoon the dedicatory services were held. The Rev. Dr. Fulton invoked a blessing upon the church and its pastor. After Dr. Macarthur had read a Scripture lesson, the Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby offered a prayer. Br. Crosby, in an address after the prayer, said that he differed with the pastor, masmuch as Dr. Macarthur believed in denominationalism. He did not, and he thought that the spirit of brotherhood manifested in the coming together of pastors of different denominations to a dedication of a church proved how slightly, in such matters, the old bitterness of sects was regarded. He remembered the Hope Chapel, im Broadway, and had been one of the men to welcome Dr. Macarthur in this city when he came from his work in Rochester, fourteen years ago. The Rev. W. T. Sabine, of the First Reformed Protestant Episcopal Church, said that his heart was too full to enable him to adequately express his gratitude to Dr. Macarthur in this city when he came from his work in Rochester, fourteen years ago. WANTED IN TEXAS, FOR SWINDLING. WANTED IN TEXAS, FOR SWINDLING.

A member of the firm of Harris Brothers, cotton brokers, of Houston Tex, called upon Inspector Byrnes on Thursday and stated that he had a requisition from Governor Ireland, of that State, for the body of Adolph Hersh, a former merchant of Houston. Hirsh had swindled the Harris Brothers out of $2,300; he had also robbed the firm of Trigg & Erhardt of $2,205, and Matthew Anderson of $2,600. All these firms are dealers in cotton in Houston.

Houston.

Mr. Harris told the inspector that Hersh had borne a good name in Houston. His business was to furnish cotton planters with supplies, taking a lien on their crops in the field. He promised the men whom he afterwardswindled that if they would advance him the money he wanted, he would give them as security the cotton on which he held his liens. As this is a common custom in the South credit was given Hersh for the sums named. When the cotton was picked, ginned and baled, and the bales had been turned over to Hersh by the planters, Mr. Harris alleges that the merchant managed to raise the cashon them without the knowledge of the firms who held his securities, and with the money he started North.

Inspector Byrnes placed Detective Sergeants

he started North.

Inspector Byrnes placed Detective Sergeauts Doyle and Rogers at work on the case. They learned that Hersh's father was a dealer in wrapping paper at No. 254 West Forty-first-st. A watch was set upon the store and the presence of the son was discovered. He was arrested by the detectives yesterday morning and locked up at Police Headonarters. quarters.

THE LAUREL HILL POISONING CASE.

In the case of the deaths of Thomas Collyer and his wife, of Laurel Hill, L. L., from supposed arsenteal poisoning, John and Annie Cowheg, who were arrested on Saturday night, were discharged yesterday by Justice McDonald, and rearrested on a warrant sworn to by Coroner Robinson. Much sympathy is expressed for them, and few persons believe that they areguilty. Coroner Robinson says that he found a box of "Rough on Rats." a poison, concealed in the house where their father, Deanis Cowheg, died. Thit, however, is denied by Deputy Sheriff O'Connell, who made the search with him. The medicine taken by the Collyers was purchased at the drug store of George Hunnill who is contined to his bed. His wife has been attending to the store, and to prescriptions. She denied that she had given any medicine to John Cowheg on Thursday night, although he said that he got the medicine there. The bottle which contained the medicine could not be found. Dr. Hitchcock is positive that the medicine was all right. THE LAUREL HILL POISONING CASE.

A COUNTRYMAN'S MISTAKE.

Another man who thought that he was on the Bridge, eluded the vigilance of the gateman yesterday and attempted to walk from the City Hall Station of the Elevated Railroad to Chatham Square. About midway between the two points he was overtaken by a shuttle train and he took refuge on a narrow brace between the tracks. The train was stopped and he was rescued from his perilous perch by the conductor.

MISSING SINCE CHRISTMAS DAY.

Inquiries were made at Police Headquarters yesterday for information of Robert Walker, a Scotchman, and a merchant doing business in Yankton, Dakota. Last November he left Yankton and went to Scotland to visit some friends. He returned to this city in December and stayed at Earle's Hotel, in Canal-st., a few days. While waiting for remittances from the West Walker left the hotel and took lodgings in the Bowery. He disappeared on Christmas Day.

Bishop Littlejohn, of Long Island, conducted a meeting in the interest of the Indian mission, last evening, at St. Thomas's Church, Fiffy-third-st, and Fifth-ave. The meeting wasunder the auspices of the Niobara League, a branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions. Bishop Little-john spoke in high terms of the work effected by the League in New-York. Herbert Welch, who has been engaged in missionary work among the Indians, spoke of the growing need among them of Christian and and influence.

SUNDAY TRAVEL ON THE BEIDGE.

Yesterday was warm and pleasant, such a day as the people who toil in close workshops during six days in the week appreciate. If the walking had been better and the thaw less pronounced, many who promenaded on the Bridge might have been tempted as far as Central Park. But probably there was not a spot in the whole city where walking was so comfortable as on the Bridge. The pedestrians were not so numerous as to warrant the opening of the southern drive; but they were a large number.

THE RECEPTION OF THE JEANNETTE'S DEAD.

Commander Upshur, who has charge of the arrangements for the official reception of the bodies of Lieutenant Commander De Long and his companions of the Jeannette Expedition, has requested that all military and civic organizations desiring to participate will let him know their probable numbers as soon as possible. The bodies will be transferred from the steamer to the Battery, where the procession will be formed. The line of march will be through Broadway, and across City Hall Park to the Bridge, thence to the Navy Yard.

THE CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY.

The New-York Church Extension and Missionary Society held its eighteenth annual meeting last evening, in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, at Fourth-ave, and Twenty-second-st. General Clinton B. Fisk presided. The Rev. A. K. Sanford, Missionary Superintendent, read a report of the work of the society. It stated that there were twenty-four churches and chapels and twenty-two pastors under the supervision of the society, and that four new churches had been started in new fields. The membership of the Sunday-schools is 6,486, Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. J. B. Day, the Rev. Albert S. Hunt and General Clinton B. Fisk.

The fourth annual meeting of the Brooklyn Auxiliary to the McAll Mission in France was held at the Church of the Pilgrims, at Henry and Remsen sts., last evening, the Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs presiding. Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. Chamberlain and the Rev. Charles Cuthbert Hall. Dr. Chamberlain said that out of a population of 300, 000,000 on the continent of Europe, 74,000,000 are now Protestants. The first station was established in January, 1872. in Paris, by Robert McAll, an English clergyman. Now there are eighty stations and 13,200 sittings. The expense of the entire work has been only $61,000. The collections of the Brooklyn branch for 1883, from various churches, amounted to $1,698.66.
